The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, USC) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction which is not to be "Used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request from, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.
